ANNOTATION

This article discusses the negative consequences and influence of mass culture on the education of young people, and also comments on the negative effects that arise in society.

Keywords: team, age, culture, upbringing, education, technology, socialization

The words "Salvation in education, salvation in education, salvation in knowledge" put forward by our president Sh. Mirziyoyev are reflected in the current rapidly developing era. Because before giving education to a person, we must first train him in the process of education and socialization

INTRODUCTION

Education is a process that molds a person and educates them in the same way and in the same direction, and it is not enough to say that you have been fully educated, because education develops with the age of a person, as he improves, and is manifested in his activation in society depending on the characteristics of a person. and according to it, it is shown in practice, the sample is divided, it is explained.

THE MAIN FINDINGS AND RESULTS

Before a person is born, he is nurtured in his mother's womb, and then he is nurtured from birth to the last breath of his life. In order to prove my opinion, I express these thoughts. comes and educates himself in the family circle, after these processes, a person re-educates himself in the period of gerontology.

At the moment, we need to understand how important the role of education is for us, as our honorable president Sh.M. Mirziyoyev said, there is a world of meaning in the phrase "the free time of the youth, the work time of the enemy". Here are the negative consequences of mass culture, which has a negative impact on the education of the youth of today, in the era of rapidly growing technology, that is, all kinds of pictures, videos, and all kinds of words that are not compatible with our mentality spread through the Internet. , games, it should be noted at this point that rock and pop music, not to mention their obscene clips.

There is a saying in Uzbek that it is better to hear it ten times than to see it once, but now think about how you and I have been explaining to our youth, but the obscenity shown on their phones aren't kilips, houses red? But here it should be noted that the positive aspects of the Internet should also be taken into account. Today's young people are curious, aspiring, meticulous, so we parents are required to be vigilant and demanding "without exceeding the standard". Therefore, one of the demands of the present time is neighborhood, school, and family cooperation. Every country has its own culture-spirituality, our culture specific to the Uzbek people, our mentality, our upbringing has incomparable aspects.

If we use it wisely, if we educate the child correctly, if we show him the right way, when he reaches adulthood, he should hear applause and praise instead of insults! But it would be appropriate to quote this sentence here.

CONCLUSION

According to Farobi, "Every person is structured in such a way that he needs many things in order to live and reach maturity at the family level. He can't get these things alone and he needs a team of people to get them." That is, it is known from this sentence that a family with healthy moral relations and a harmonious community are necessary for human development. So, if we don't set an example for our young people, that is, if we don't get off the phone to read books, we will be doing a lot of wrong propaganda.
